CABA & EH TO PRODUCE NEW SERVICE PROVIDERS SUMMIT IN LONG BEACH, CA

April 15, 2003

The Continental Automated Buildings Association (CABA) and EH Events & Education announced today their plans to produce a new connected home conference event targeted to the service provider community. Titled "ACCESS: The Service Providers Summit for the Connected Home," this one-day program will teach service providers such as telephone companies, cable operators, ISPs, satellite broadcasters and energy companies about the opportunity to tether their existing and future services to the burgeoning connected home market.

"We are excited to be working on this important, new program with EH," said Ronald J. Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "CABA has hosted the service provider community at several successful events in the past, but always with a broader scope that included information for manufacturers and other allied trades and sectors. It is important now to develop a focused, dedicated forum for service providers, and that's what ACCESS will deliver."

"We are pleased to be partnering with CABA to provide targeted information and advice to service providers regarding profitable opportunities in the connected home market," said John Galante, Vice President of EH Events & Education. "CABA has the expertise, contacts and track record with service providers required to address the market. Add EH's marketing muscle, our own wide-ranging contacts and expertise within the connected home industry, our event producing capabilities and the synergies of co-locating with EHX and we are clearly positioned for success."

Additional information on the event, including a complete course outline, schedule of events, and registration pricing, is forthcoming. Questions regarding the event can be directed to EH Events & Education at 800.375.8015 or 508.358.3400.

Electronic House Expo is the trade show and conference of the $15 billion connected home industry. Held twice annually and sponsored by CABA, CEA's TechHome Division and CEDIA, the EHX trade show floor and conference program provide an invaluable forum for information exchange, education and new product demonstrations from leading manufacturers and service providers across the entire connected home spectrum of home networking, automation, entertainment, and security. EHX, produced by EH Events & Education and sponsored by CEA, is the only event to unite such a broad, quality audience of connected home professionals under one roof.
