

Continental Automated
Buildings Association

Your Information
Source for Home & Building Automation

North America's Home & Building
Automation Association

1173 Cyrville Road, Suite 210
Ottawa, ON K1J 7S6

Tel: 1. 613.686.1814
Fax: 1.613.744.7833
US/Canada: 1.888.798.CABA

Web: www.caba.org
E-mail: caba@caba.org

JIM DEVLIN OF INVENSYS APPOINTED TO CABA BOARD

July 12, 2004

CABA is pleased to announce the appointment of Jim Devlin of Invensys to its Board of Directors.

Mr. Devlin is the President of Invensys Home Control Systems, a world leader in the manufacturing, networking and servicing of control devices and systems.

By joining CABA's Board, Mr. Devlin has joined an elite group of industry leaders who promote advanced technologies for the automation of homes and buildings in North America and throughout the world.

CABA's members include manufacturers, dealers, installers, telecommunication companies, energy utilities, builders, consultants, research organizations, publishers, educational institutions, governments and associations.

"I sincerely welcome Jim Devlin to the CABA Board of Directors," said Ronald J. Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "His appointment will enhance the Board's expertise and experience and brings valuable knowledge concerning the home control segment to our industry."

Jim Devlin is also secretary of Internet Home Alliance, a reciprocal CABA member. As secretary, he is responsible for delivering the IHA's annual statement to its board of directors, for maintaining the records of the organization, as well as other duties designated by IHA's board.

"I am pleased to contribute my experience and expertise in order to build a stronger home automation sector," states Devlin. "By contributing to CABA, Invensys is ensuring that industry has access to resources that will assist in the acceleration of innovation and growth within the home automation sector."

As president of Invensys Home Control Systems, Devlin is leading a pioneering effort to use intelligent control points in the home to bring services to the residential consumer.

Devlin joined Invensys from ICL plc (a subsidiary of Fujitsu Corporation) where he had over 20 years experience in the computer systems industry in sales and marketing, product development, and general management roles, culminating as executive vice president of Internet Ventures and as a board member of Fujitsu ICL USA.

Prior to that role, Devlin was senior vice president of ICL Retail Global Solutions where he set the strategic direction for Fujitsu's retail industry solutions.

Devlin holds a degree in sciences from the University of Leicester and is an alumnus of London Business School.

About CABA

The Continental Automated Buildings Association (CABA) is a leading industry association that promotes advanced technologies in homes and buildings in North America. More information is available at www.caba.org.

About Invensys

Invensys is a global leader in production technology. The group helps customers improve productivity, performance and profitability using innovative services and technologies and a deep understanding of their industries and applications. Invensys operates in more than 60 countries, with its headquarters in London. For more information, visit www.invensys.com.

Media Contact:

Rawlson O'Neil King
Communications Director, CABA
king@caba.org
613.686.1814 x225
888.798.CABA (2222)