ANDREW STROEDE OF PANDUIT CORP. JOINS CABA BOARD OF DIRECTORS

November 13, 2006

CABA today announced that Andrew Stroede of Panduit Corp. has joined the organization's Board of Directors. Stroede replaces Jack D. Tison, who represented Panduit Corp. on CABA's Board since 2004.

CABA is a nonprofit industry association that provides information, education, and networking to help promote advanced technologies for the automation of homes and buildings in North America.

"I am very pleased that Andrew Stroede has joined our Board," said Ron Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "His contribution to our work will continue to ensure strong representation from an active manufacturer of high-quality products for wiring and communications applications."

Stroede has been with Panduit Corp. for 21 years in technical and management positions ranging from Product Development Engineer to his current position as Vice-President of Corporate R&D (since 2001). As VP of Corp R&D, Stroede is responsible for forward-looking application and technology research, including Intelligent Building Systems. He has a BSME from Valparaiso University.
