CABA APPOINTS ELLIS LINDSAY TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS

September 10, 2008

The Continental Automated Buildings Association announced today that Ellis Lindsay of Alcatel-Lucent has been named to the association's Board of Directors. CABA is a nonprofit industry association that provides information, education, and networking to help promote advanced technologies for the automation of homes and buildings.

Ellis Lindsay leads the connected home program within for Alcatel-Lucent's Americas Strategy Group. Working closely with internal business units, Lindsay is responsible for defining and driving Alcatel-Lucent's role in the connected home as more industries intersect inside the home through the common adoption of IP connectivity.

"We are delighted to welcome Ellis Lindsay to CABA's Board," said Ronald J. Zimmer, President & CEO of CABA. "His industry expertise in the global high technology field, including Alcatel-Lucent, will provide valuable expertise and insight to our organization."

Prior to joining Alcatel-Lucent, Lindsay was Associate Director, Consumer Services Development at Bell Canada where he was instrumental in the development of Bell Canada's Voice over IP services capabilities. His contributions to Bell Canada's communications technology and application strategies bring a wealth of integrated services knowledge and experience to the organization. As a Director of Strategic Alliances for Ubiquity Software, he was an early participant in the evolution of SIP products and implementations within the service provider community. Lindsay also has extensive experience in the consumer and enterprise software markets from Corel Corporation and Cognos Inc. where he held Product Management roles earlier in his career.

Lindsay has a Bachelor of Engineering from Carleton University in Ottawa, Canada.
