RealView, LLC to Join CABA Board of Directors

June 6, 2011

The Continental Automated Buildings Association is pleased to announce the addition of RealView, LLC to its Board of Directors.

CABA is an international trade association dedicated to advancing technology and integrated systems in homes and buildings, creating opportunities for its members' business activities and serving as a preferred global source of information, technology and networking for key stakeholders.

RealView, LLC is a Chicago-based software development company that offers mobile inspection and centralized fire and emergency pre-plan software solutions. Stephen J. Nardi, RealView, LLC President & CEO, will represent the company on the CABA Board.

"I am very pleased that Stephen Nardi has joined our Board," said Ronald J. Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "His contribution to our work will continue to ensure strong representation from an innovative and entrepreneurial provider of high-quality life safety applications for commercial buildings."

Nardi has 40 years of previous experience as a national corporate real estate developer and as a Chairman and CEO of a NYSE-listed real estate investment trust that owned and developed millions of square feet of office and industrial property throughout the United States.

He is a member of the National Fire Protection Association, the Center for Campus Fire Safety, the Chicago Real Estate Board, the National Association of Realtors, the Society of Industrial and Office Realtors, the National Association of Industrial and Office Realtors, the Urban Land Institute, and the Chicago Development Council. He also serves on the Council of Regents of Loyola University Chicago.

"CABA is a world-renowned organization and I am happy to provide leadership to the association," said Nardi. "Our fast-growing industry only benefits from additional cooperation and interaction and I hope to foster more collaborative efforts within the home and building automation sector."
