SecurTek Monitoring Solutions Joins CABA Board of Directors

September 14, 2011

The Continental Automated Buildings Association is pleased to announce that SecurTek Monitoring Solutions, a SaskTel company, has been appointed to the organization's Board of Directors. CABA is a nonprofit industry association that provides information, education, and networking to help promote advanced technologies for the automation of homes and buildings. Barry Rogers, President and Chief Executive Officer of SecurTek, will represent the firm.

"On behalf of CABA's membership, I welcome Barry Rogers to the Board of Directors," said Ronald J. Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "CABA has sought to strengthen its leadership position representing the interests of security services and applications within the connected home and building industry, and we know Barry will help move our association towards that goal."

Rogers is head of a fast growing security company which operates three ULC certified monitoring stations across Canada. SecurTek is also Five Diamond Certified by the Central Station Alarm Association. In addition to operating three central stations, SecurTek has a national dealer program that continues to grow annually. SecurTek is wholly-owned by SaskTel.

Rogers has been responsible for providing leadership and direction for all aspects of SecurTek activities including the launch and growth of video monitoring services. SecurTek provides a full suite of monitored services including; intrusion, environmental and fire safety; video monitoring; home automation and interactive solutions; guard service; medical alert; and a full range of connection capabilities including IP, 4G, CDMA, and satellite-based communications.

Rogers is a member of the Canadian Security Association (CANASA) National Monitoring Committee board, a sister CABA organization. CANASA is the recognized voice of security in Canada and is dedicated to promoting the interests of its members and the safety of all Canadians.

Prior to his appointment at SecurTek, Rogers worked for over two decades in a variety of customer service related fields for SaskTel, a leading telecommunications provider in Canada.

"I am very pleased to join the CABA Board of Directors on behalf of SecurTek and look forward to helping to build our industry and provide value to our members," stated Rogers. "CABA, through its long-time affiliations with CANASA and the Security Industry Association, has strengthened the profile for security in automated homes and buildings. I believe SecurTek can play a strong role in helping CABA to build on that success and I look forward to working with my colleagues on the CABA Board."
