Samsung Electronics, Co. Ltd. Joins CABA Board

November 16, 2011

The Continental Automated Buildings Association is pleased to announce that Samsung Electronics, Co. Ltd. has joined its Board of Directors.

Samsung Electronics, Co. Ltd. is a multinational electronics and information technology company headquartered in South Korea. It is the flagship subsidiary of the Samsung Group. With assembly plants and sales networks in over 60 countries worldwide, Samsung has approximately 160,000 employees.

Dr. Yong Chang will represent Samsung Electronics, Co. Ltd. on the CABA Board. Dr. Chang received his Ph.D. degree from the Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology in 1998. He has been with Samsung Electronics since that time as a director who manages new technologies and experiments with standards enabling at the Samsung Electronics Digital Media & Communications R&D Center in Seoul.

"I am very pleased to welcome Dr. Chang and Samsung Electronics to the CABA Board," stated Ronald J. Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "Dr. Chang's appointment brings additional technology expertise to our association and broadens our exposure to emerging global marketplaces."

Dr. Chang's major areas of interest are machine-to-machine (M2M) standards and technologies, and new business relevant to major vertical markets, which include: the smart home and building segments, e-health, connected consumer electronics and connected car technologies.

Dr. Chang is recognized within Samsung for his work in enabling global collaboration. Dr. Chang has previously served as a co-chair of the WiMAX Forum Network Working Group and currently serves in leadership positions in Samsung's global smart grid and M2M standards collaborations.

"I am particularly pleased to be joining the innovative team on the CABA Board," stated Dr. Chang. "CABA has been long recognized as a leader in the home and large building automation space and I look forward to using my skills and experience to strengthen the organization and help take its services and our industry to the next level."
