Yann Kulp of Schneider Electric Appointed to CABA Board

June 4, 2015

The Continental Automated Buildings Association today announced that Yann Kulp of Schneider Electric has joined the organization's Board of Directors. Kulp replaces Xavier Datin who previously represented Schneider Electric on the CABA Board, and who is taking a new role in the company.

CABA is a non-profit organization dedicated to the promotion of smart home technologies and integrated and intelligent building systems.

"I am very pleased that Yann Kulp of Schneider Electric has joined our Board," said Ron Zimmer, CABA President & CEO. "His contribution to our work will ensure strong representation from an active manufacturer of high-quality products for residential energy systems and applications."

Yann Kulp is Vice President SmartSpace at Schneider Electric, a $27 billion global leader in energy management solutions. Prior to this role, Yann was based in Paris as Director, Communications - Residential & Commercial Controls for Schneider Electric EMEAS, and also held sales, marketing and strategy roles at Legrand and Schneider Electric in U.S. and Europe. He leads the strategic and commercial growth of residential and small commercial energy management solutions in North America. They deliver cloud connected customer engagement, energy efficiency and demand response solutions for homes, small buildings (banking, retail chains...), small businesses, utilities, smart cities and energy retailers.

Kulp studied business in France, followed by an MBA at Syracuse University. Since 2012, he is based in Chicago with his wife and three children. In addition to the CABA Board, he serves of the board of the Chicago chapter of the French-American Chamber of Commerce, is co-chair of the CABA Connected Home Council, and is active in the Chicago start-up community.

"I am very pleased to support CABA and its research & collaboration across technology providers and users," stated Kulp. "It is my intention to make contributions that will strengthen the association and its initiatives."
